NATIONAL GUARD
NEWS

The target season for the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., has not yet been announced, but officers and men are looking forward with interest to work on the range this year, especially as an entirely new course is prescribed for the militia by the 1913 firing regulations. The old "Special Course C" is done away with, and a more varied one substituted for the organized militia.

To quote the new regulations in part as to the organized militia course:

"The general scheme for instruction of the organized militia embraces: First, a certain amount of instruction in the preliminary drills and exercises, followed by gallery practice, with a prescribed test before the soldier can be advanced to practice on the target range; second, a definite course of instruction practice, under which, by selected scores of five shots each, a soldier must attain a certain proficiency before he can be advanced to fire the record practice, organized militia, or the qualification course, regular army, at the discretion of the state authorities, under which the soldier attains a certain grade in marksmanship; fourth, long range practice.

"(a) The period for indoor instruction will be determined by the state authorities and may extend into, or include the entire range practice season.

"(b) The essentials of indoor instruction will include:

"Nomenclature, covering the most important parts and elements.
"Manipulation and the use of the various working parts.
"Care of the arm.

"Sighting, aiming, position and trigger squeeze.
"Gallery practice."

The following is the gallery course prescribed:

Range 50 feet, prone, 10 shots; 50 feet, sitting, 10 shots; 50 feet, kneeling, 10 shots. No officer or enlisted man who has failed to qualify as first class or better in a previous season shall be advanced to range practice until he has attained at least 90 points out of a possible 150 in the gallery practice course, by selecting his two best scores of five shots at each range.

The qualification course is divided into instruction practice and record practice on the regular range.

Instruction practice embraces a prescribed course in which a certain proficiency must be attained in certain cases, before qualification practice is undertaken. This course may be shot through as many times as is necessary to insure proper instruction. Firing for recruits may be held at 100 yards in any position except standing, but does not count in de-

DO YOU WANT IT?

A special issue of $50,000, ten year, 6 per cent Gold Notes has been duly authorized by the Board of Directors of the Hygienic Health Food Company, and is now offered for sale. The legality of the issue has been duly approved by the legal adviser of the corporation, an attorney of high standing and many years experience.

The proceeds from this issue will be used for further development of the business which is a going, growing, enterprise, having the unqualified endorsement of its local Chamber of Commerce.

The company manufactures "Grants Hygienic Crackers" and "Grants Hygienic Breakfast Food" and will, from time to time, add other allied health food products.

Its products are protected by trademarks, secret processes, etc., and as it in no way invades the field covered by regular manufacturers of crackers and sweet goods the danger of competition is removed.

Starting with limited capital the company has developed a business that has shown a profit for 50 consecutive months.

The estimated earning powers of the enterprise, when fully developed, is over 40 per cent on the issued stock after payment of 6 per cent on the Gold Notes.

The Gold Notes are issued in denominations of $100 or multiples thereof.

You can buy the Gold Notes on the installment plan if you so desire. Terms, one-fifth with application and one-fifth monthly thereafter until the entire amount has been paid.

The company offering these Gold Notes is not an untried concern. It is safely and honestly managed in the interests of the stockholders.

Knowing, as we do, the profitable nature of the business we recommend the purchase of the 6 per cent Gold Notes of the Hygienic Health Food Company at par.

With each $100 worth, we give a bonus of 25 shares of fully paid stock in the company. Interest on the Gold Notes is payable semi-annually dating from the day the final payment is received at this office.

We have a few thousand shares of the stock that we can sell at $1.00 per share. A dividend on the stock will undoubtedly be paid next January.

For definite income buy the Gold Notes, but for greater profit buy the stock of which we supply but a limited amount.

Write today for "Data F" which will give detailed information regarding the enterprise. Write today because the Gold Notes are selling, the stock is selling and the stock bonus may be withdrawn at an early date. Full size package of crackers will be mailed on receipt of 25 cents.

INLAND PRINTER PRAISES

and is reproduced here (No. 2). A feature of this number is the picture of a native lad, smiling down at the reader and writing above him "Merry Christmas." On his back is a paper sack, bearing the words "Star-Bulletin." The advertisements in the magazine section are better handled than those in the regular news section of the paper.

The foregoing, photographed from the Inland Printer, one of the premier trade-papers of the United States, is self-explanatory.

termining proficiency in the instruction practice.

Following is the instruction practice course, it being necessary for the soldier to make first class, 150 out of possible 225, before he can shoot for record:

220 yards, slow fire, target A, 10 shots (5 sitting and 5 kneeling); 300 yards, slow fire, target A, 5 shots prone; 500 yards, slow fire, target B, 10 shots prone; 200 yards, slow fire, target D, 5 shots kneeling; 200 yards rapid fire, target D, 5 shots kneeling from standing; 300 yards, slow fire, target D, 5 shots prone; 200 yards, rapid fire, target D, 5 shots prone from standing.

After completing instruction practice, those who qualify as first class-man are eligible to fire record practice, organized militia, or the qualification course, regular army. The choice of courses shall be determined by the territorial authorities.

Following is the record course, organized militia:

Slow fire: 200 yards, 10 shots, target A, prone; 500 yards, ten shots, target B, prone; 600 yards, target B, 10 shots prone with sandbag rest. Rapid fire, battle sight—200 yards, target D, 14 minutes, 10 shots kneeling from standing; 300 yards, target D, 12 minutes; 10 shots prone from standing.

This course may be fired three times in any target season, the individual's classification being determined by the best of his three trials, but this provision is not construed to permit the formation of a record based on scores selected from two or more trials. The basis of classification must be the result of one complete course in each case.

The possible for the record course, organized militia, is 250, and classification is as follows: Expert, 210; sharpshooter, 190; marksman, 160.

An effort is being made to put into effect a uniform plan for instruction of the national guard. As a basis upon which this is to be carried out a general order will shortly be issued by the war department. Along this line there will also be issued a manual for non-commissioned officers and privates of infantry of the organized militia.

An extract from this manual on marching and camping, breaking camp and preparations for the march, has been sent to the adjutants general of the states. This is done especially to prepare the national guard for this year's maneuvers and camps of instruction.

For some time it has been a settled conviction both in the war department and among the state authorities that there should be a uniform system for the instruction of the organized militia. Much of the good work that has been done by inspector-instructors in national guard organizations might have been more effective had not different army officers on duty with the guard used different methods of instruction. In too many cases after an inspector-instructor has taught a national guard organization along a certain line his successor has undone all of his work by adopting a new system. It is expected that this will be obviated by the adoption of a uniform system in connection with the manual for non-commissioned officers and privates of infantry. This manual will not only serve to make methods more uniform in the national guard, but by studying it the enlisted men can prepare to take examinations for promotion. The manual for non-commissioned officers and privates of infantry of the national guard deals fully with marching and camping, breaking camp and preparation for a
